

Wimbledon and Putney Commons
Conservators

The majority of FUNGI are important to the well being of the Commons.

Wimbledon Common and Putney Heath is a designated Site of Special Scientific Interest and a Special Area of Conservation.

To safeguard this valuable habitat there is a need to control activities that are potentially damaging to this ecologically sensitive site.

While no commercial gathering of fungi is permitted on the Commons, local people will be allowed to gather small quantities for personal use.

Please note that the maximum weight of fungi that individuals are permitted to collect from the commons is approximately 0.5kg.

When collecting fungi please try to minimise damage to surrounding vegetation and please be aware that some fungi are poisonous.
